MACOMB MENTIONINGS.

(Special Correspondence.)

Preaching at the Baptist church every first Saturday at 11 a. m. and at 7 p. m. and Sunday at 11 a. m. by Rev. G. Chadwell, pastor. Everybody invited.

We have had some light showers for the last few days. Clear cool weather at present.

Farmers are still hustling to finish planting corn.

J. D. Reynolds of Mansfield was at Macomb last week loading a car of railroad timber.

Clate Tarbuton says Macomb is the best town on earth, I guess Clate is right as we have not heard of anyone disputing his statement.

Arthur Loftis' brother, who is visiting Arthur and Rev. D. J. Letsinger is very sick with the mumps.

A. V. Freeman has just completed a general overhauling of his residence, which consisted of a new shingled roof, two new porches and three coats of nice white paint with a nice green trimming. It makes a wonderful improvement in Mr. Freeman's residence.

Rev. G. Chadwell filled his regular appointment at Macomb Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. A. L. Babb of Macomb was called to the home of W. M. James, south of Mansfield, Sunday to solemnize the rites of matrimony between Arthur F. Short and Miss Emily James. Some of the young folks attended the infare at G. E. Short's Monday and all report a good time.

PRAIRIE HOLLOW AND BRYANT.

(Special Correspondence.)

We are having some fine spring weather—most of the farmers are catching up very well with their spring work.

There has recently been a Sunday school organized at the Roy school, with Bro. Poort as superintendent, and Mrs. Mollie Roy as secretary. That is certainly fine—two Sunday schools in one neighborhood. Keep the good work going. There will also be preaching at the Roy school house every fourth Sunday by Bro. Barlow.

There will be services at the Prairie Hollow church Sunday—we hope to have a full house.

A very pleasant day was spent by Mrs. Hoover, Bro. Poort, Bro. Borlow and daughter with L. M. Roy and wife.

Ernest Roy has returned from California—all his friends were glad to have him back.

Will Starnes says he is glad Eunice Lyles is staying in town, as he gets to come oftener.

BLUE EYES.

BAKERY CHANGES HANDS

R. E. Mashburn and Homer McNealy of Seymour have purchased the Hilsabeck bakery and taken charge of the same. They will conduct it under the name of the Mansfield Bakery. The new proprietors are young men of experience and will doubtless do a good business. We wish them success in their undertaking. We do not know Mr. Hilsabeck's plans for the future but hope the family will remain residents of Mansfield.

GOOD WORDS

A Springfield man who is an authority on the subject writes: "I just got hold of a copy of your paper the other day, and permit me to say that I think it is one of the nearest appearing publications of its nature that I have seen lately."

INFANT DEAD.

Miss Beulah Marie Ungles, aged 14 days, passed away April 30, interment in Fairview cemetery.

ON ROUTE NO. 3.

(Special Correspondence.)

J. W. Edwards and family attended church at Wolf Creek on Saturday and took dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Harley Stout.

A heavy wooden chair was found between J. W. Edwards' and John Brentlinger's places about two weeks ago. It is at John Brentlinger's now. The owner can get it by calling.

G. W. Brentlinger and wife, Mrs. H. M. Baker and daughter, Fern, spent Sunday with J. W. Brentlinger and family. Miss Rose and Herman Williams were also guests of Leota, Ralph, and Eddie Dungan.

James Brewer and family and Mrs. Marshall spent Sunday with George Brewer and family. Paul Williams and wife called in the afternoon.

Mr. Barlow and daughter, Eudora, attended church at the Roy school house Sunday.

Harley Stout and wife and Mrs. Jay Dennis spent Monday with J. W. Edwards and wife. They spent the afternoon with Mrs. Wm. Letzenhizer.

Prof. C. M. Tate of Mansfield is repairing organs out this way. He cleaned J. W. Brentlinger's organ and dined with them Tuesday.

The bridge near Mr. Ungles' home is nearly completed. It will be a great improvement. SUKEY.

PARK IMPROVEMENT

A necessary change in the plans is one of the reasons why work on the park improvement project has not advanced. More money, too, is needed for the work but it is now the intention of the committee to proceed with the work as fast as possible. P. W. Newton, W. B. Hitchcock and C. A. Stephens are the members of the committee to collect the subscriptions and solicit more funds. See them at once.

LONDON

(Special Correspondence.)
